MR. McHENRY

When I was thirteen, I fell in love with my history teacher. He was tall and smart but looking back I can't say handsome.

It started in the fall when the course began, and my mom endured months of listening to the reasons why he was so cool. She reminded me often to stop calling it "love, it's only a crush."

I guessed he was about 44 and so I figured if I waited until I was twenty three to start dating him, he would be 54 and that would be perfect.

He was all I could think about. I started pursuing the things that I thought would help us to have more in common when we ended up together. Reading about early explorers from books that my mom had, spending hours in the library reading about the women of World War II, going as Sacajawea for Halloween after reading about Lewis and Clark. From time to time, I would try and thread some of this extra knowledge into the class discussion but he never seemed to notice. So it just led to more research and I was the only 13 year-old at my school that thought The Great Depression seemed like a romantic era to live through.

One Sunday morning after I had gone to church with my mom, I rode my bike to the market. It was about 10 in the morning. There was a liquor store right across from the market and I saw him getting in his car. At first I was sort of embarrassed for him to see me in shorts and on my bike so I sort of stayed on the other side of the soda machine. And then I saw what he was carrying, A 12 PACK OF BEER! Who buys a 12 pack of beer on Sunday morning? That much beer on a Sunday morning was more than my love could make room for.

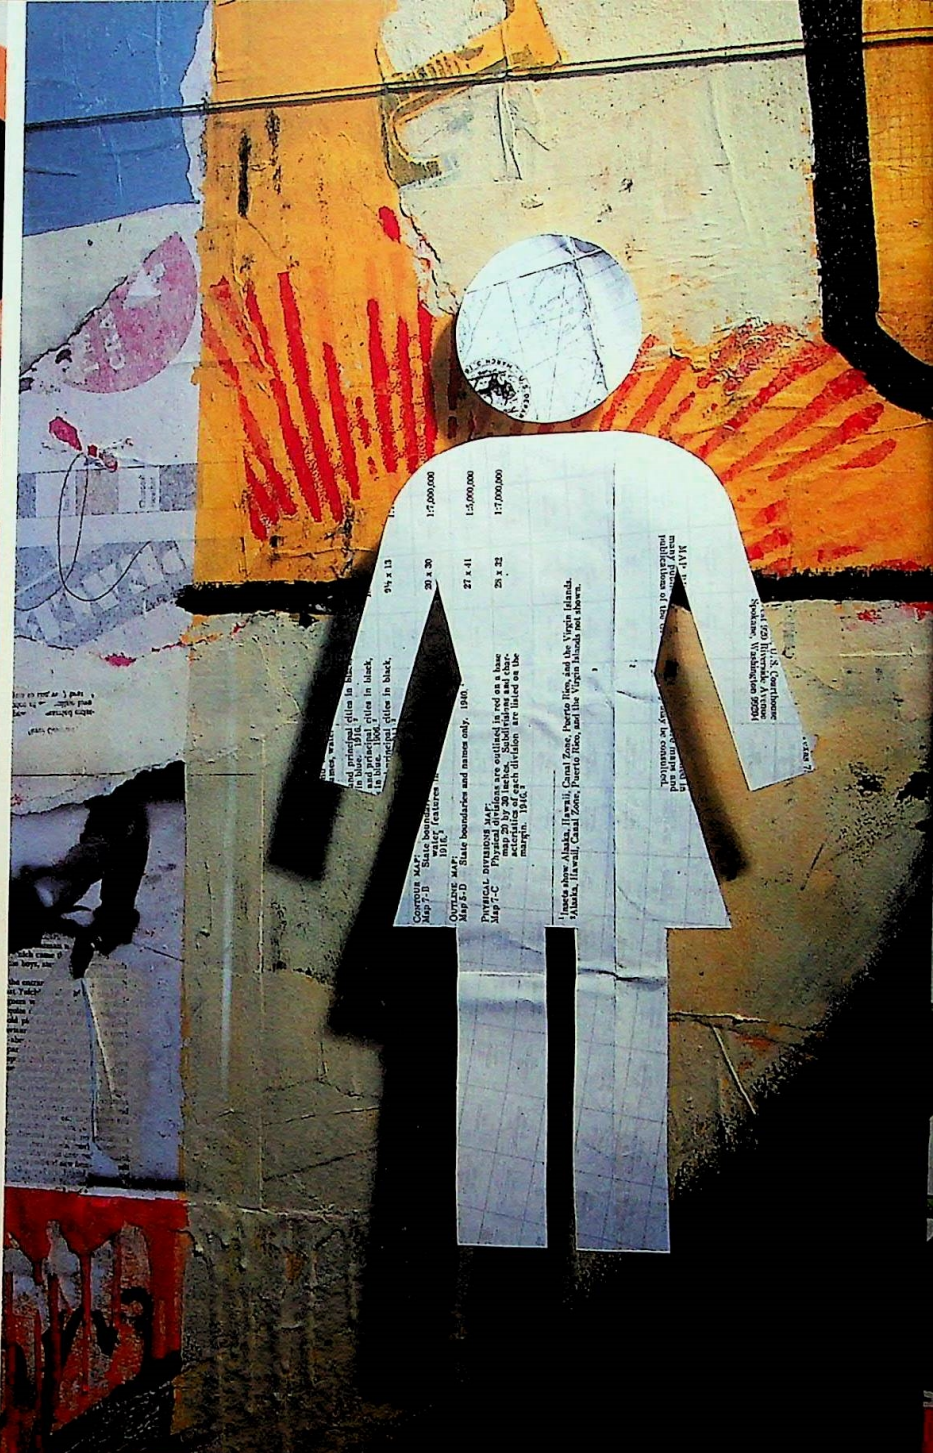

That was the end of my love for Mr. McHenry.

But I have gone on to make lots of friends that buy 12 packs on Sunday morning.

—Megan Baltimore, 12/03

The giant collage was created by the Girl Art Dump* for Pedrosideways: Helping Some Dudes Under a Bridge, at the Walled City Gallery, San Pedro, California, in November of 2003. A portion of the proceeds went to the sanpedroskateparkassociation.org for additions to the Pedroside, or Channel Street skatepark. Photos: Mueller

"Driving out of L.A. was good . . . we're all in the vans heading out of the parking lot and just getting on the freeway to do this . . ." —Roberts

A high-angle photograph of ten skateboarders arranged in a loose circle on a concrete plaza. They are all wearing white t-shirts and dark pants. Some are on their skateboards, while one in the center-left is standing with arms raised. The scene is captured from directly above, showing the texture of the pavement and the layout of the group.

“One of the things
that’s great about Chocolate is the loyalty to their riders . . .

a lot of companies have loyalty from are part of a family.” —M.J.

"I got a lot of love at chocolate ...

... I've been on chocolate since it started,
so it feels like I'm more than just a team rider . . . it feels like family." —Daniel

BUBBLE FREE GRIPTAPE!

NO AIR BUBBLES

Diamond griptape has a specially designed perforated bubble free application which eliminates annoying air pockets from forming while applying the griptape to your board.

NO SLIPPERY TAPE

We use only top of the line premium resins on our griptape to reduce abrasive grain from rubbing off which makes our griptape's grip last longer.

NO INCONSISTENCY

Diamond griptape has the latest technology in electrostatic coating process that assures every piece of griptape has the same exact consistency.

WHAT ELSE ?

We also have a state of the art cross laminated tear resistant backing that enables our tape to hold up in the harshest conditions.

Our adhesive is specially formulated to be consistent with every piece of tape and will hold tight to your board in the coldest of weather.
